Our thoughts...

This year has been another year of change. We have finally focused our strategy and it feels for the first time that we have a clear road map ahead for how we wish to grow and deliver impact in the communities we work in. We still strongly believe in our motto of being a sailboat and not a speed boat.

The design and development of our Get Global curriculum has been a fun process, bringing together our expertise and experience to create an engaging and meaningful education programme for children. Not only have we designed this curriculum together over the past year we are also in month 4 of our two pilot programmes at our first partner school, Meyah Preparatory School.

We have trained 4 local young adults as Get Global facilitators who are delivering the current pilot programme and it has been really exciting to see these amazing change-makers become part of the Move The World Ghana team with Emmanuel.

We're looking forward to reviewing and adapting our programme in the coming months and to launching more programmes in September at more schools (the new academic year)

Thank you to all of you that support us in kind, through donations, and through friendship - you really are a big part of our progress!

Keep moving!

Year in Review

Here are some of our highlights:

2018

Private Partnerships

In June 2018 we hosted a private group from the US for their first trip to Ghana. For most of the group this was their first experience in Africa and we hosted a three week programme immersing them in the culture and art, environment community projects. We look forward to welcoming this group back in 2019.

Farewell Bernard

Our annual board meeting in 2018 was shaken with the passing of our key partner Bernard Woma. We have spent the year supporting his family through this tough time and hope we can continue to support his legacy.

Curriculum Development

We spent most of this year pulling together our experience and expertise and creating our Get Global curriculum. A 6 month interactive programme taking students aged 11-12 through workshops focussed on the first 6 Sustainable Development Goals.

2019

Lovers & Bluffers Fundraiser

We held our very first Lovers and Bluffers gala - this was a casino themed evening held at Home House in London. We sold out and had over 90 people attend, raising a total of £6,100 for our Get Global programmes. We look forward to hosting this event again next year!

Launch of Get Global Pilot

We launched two pilot programmes of Get Global - our global citizenship education programme. These programmes are led by locally trained facilitators and so far we are in month 4 of our 6 month pilot reaching 47 children.

Meet the Team

This year has seen our Ghana team expand significantly which is really exciting. We're looking forward to bringing on more facilitators as we scale Get Global next year.

Partnerships & Collaborations

With thanks to our ongoing partnerships and collaborators who make this work so much fun

1 Billion Africa, based in Accra, Ghana have become a key partner for our programmes and experiences. With aligned purposes, their team of young change makers often support the delivery of our programmes and we have multiple joint projects in the pipeline for 2018.

The Dagara Music Center have been our hosts in Ghana from the beginning. They welcome each new group with open arms and share Ghanaian traditions, dance and music whilst providing us all with a home away from home.

Justin & Kathy of Cartology Travel have shown us unwavering support throughout the past 12 months. Their donations to our auction at Lovers & Bluffers enabled us to raise an amazing £6,000.

Meyah Preparatory School trusted us to pilot our very first Get Global Programme. We couldn't be more grateful for their support, open doors, and wonderful students.
